Mega resorts

The Galaxy Mega Resorts, the latest new comer in the gaming and resort development in the Macau Cotai area. This massive development occupies approximately over 14 hectares of land for its phase one development. Along with the other recent developments in the area, the new Galaxy Mega Resorts, serves as a refreshing compliment to the whole Cotai area and yet finding its own identity to stand out among all the rest.

The grand scheme was first conceived in 2005 and the objective “then” and “now” has always been to create a world-class resorts development. Unlike other foreign resorts which imported directly from overseas the exact model into this Asian city, the Galaxy Group has been striving to develop its own brand new character in both planning and the overall outlook of the building as a never before seen “Palatial Kingdom”.

Out of the massive podium structure, two linear form twin towers sit comfortably on each side complimenting each other providing approximately 2200 guest rooms among three hotel operations (Galaxy/Okura/and Banyan Tree brands). Varieties in guestrooms accommodation are numerous from standard room to large and medium size suites and even private villa houses. A comprehensive range of activities and functions are strategically planned within the complex such as over 50 restaurants, retail streets, function rooms, spa facilities, various water sports areas with private Cabanas and ultimately the massive wave pool on the podium recreational deck as a central focal point along with the mass gaming hall and many private VIP rooms and entertainment areas plus the future 9 houses cinema building. The complicate knitting and inter-relationship of all the functions and activities create a magical tension and chemistry to form a wonderful setting and resorts atmosphere with lush green landscape to suite the development as a major holiday destination.

The theme of the project, after numerous discussions, takes on an image of a mythical palace like appearance. Special attentions were given to every single detail of the building to achieve on overall grandeur of this palace. Architectural vocabulary for the project is mainly classical in spirit with relentless effort to introduce custom invented motifs and sculptural features through out the whole complex to enrich and reinforce its particular identity. The outcome of this process is a building extremely rich in details but exercised with precise controlled elegance and set to be an unforgettable image for tourists visiting Macau for a few days.

With a project of this magnitude, great minds and professionals were called for from all around the world to contribute their invaluable skills in putting together this grand scheme. Other than traditional lead consultants, numerous designers for interior, landscape, gaming experts, operators, theme designers, wow effect specialist, retail planners, lighting design, etc, just to name a few; all joined together to work on this project. The exercises of art direction among all the professionals were carefully executed to steer the big team of people towards the right direction to achieve a common goal. The architecture set the tone for the project providing for all the creative bodies an open platform to induce their particular energy, adding to the project multiple points of interests and varieties to the overall scheme. With the openness and forward thinking attitude of the Galaxy Group, all designers were given the opportunity to outperform themselves and hence, - "A legend is born".
