

Guangzhou building development

Photo: SIMON LI (www.building.kqjia.com/)

The Guangzhou Opera House at Zhujiang New Town – designed by Zaha Hadid Architects

In preparation to host the 16th Asian Games, Guangzhou has gone through a major transformation in building development. In this issue, BUILDING JOURNAL presents in a photo essay, some of the newly completed projects in Er Sha Island and Zhujiang New Town, which are symbolic of the new faces of Guangzhou.

Xin Hai Concert Hall, Er Sha Island

Built in the late 90s, Xin Hai Concert Hall has become a popular landmark for tourists

Newly completed cultural and recreational venues next to Xin Hai Concert Hall on Er Sha Island. The area is designated to become Guangzhou's cultural centre.

Guangzhou IFC
103-storey Grade A office building
Architects: Wilkinson Eyre Architects/
Ove Arup & Partners Hong Kong Ltd

R&F Centre
Headquarters of
R&F Properties Group

More trees

Preservation

View of Canton Tower (610-m tall) from the promenade of Er Sha Island

Guangdong Provincial Museum – designed by Rocco Design

For more photos, please visit our online Photo Library www.building.hk/plibrary